System Design & Considerations for Transporting 4K Signals

DATE: Thursday, November 14, 2013
TIME: 2:00 PM EDT

REGISTER TODAY

Are you prepared for the 4K/UltraHD explosion that is about to happen based on displays and content becoming readily available and more affordable. What does that mean for AV system designers designing new solutions as well as for existing infrastructures that do not have video compression & 4K decoding capability? This webinar will address how 4K content will impact both the commercial and residential markets and what considerations need to be made when upgrading and designing new AV distribution systems to allow for 4K transport.
