Arrive Systems appoints Liberty AV Solutions as Distributor for the North American Pro A/V market
Arrive® strengthens its Edgeless Media and Extreme Collaboration customer outreach with Liberty AV as its Authorized Distributor in North America.

Colorado Springs, CO, USA – 06 February 2014: Liberty AV Solutions (<http://www.libertycable.com>) announces its agreement with Arrive Systems, Inc. (<http://www.arrivesys.com>) which provides Liberty's extensive channel network in the Pro-AV markets the ability to source and support Arrive Edgeless Media Platform products and solutions across North America.

Liberty will extend its current range of audio-visual integration products to offer enterprise class Edgeless Media® solutions with Arrive InfoPoint™ room signs, Arrive FacePoint® extreme collaboration room systems and Arrive ViewPoint™ rich media lecture recording systems ideally suited for enterprise and education markets. Arrive Edgeless Media® is a unified platform that develops and offers the world's largest range of convergent Unified Collaboration & Pro-AV Room Systems as a single vendor which includes an extensive range of unified software and hardware systems comprised of interactive flat panel displays, cameras, microphones, codec appliances and unified AV controls systems with wireless BYOD and Cloud connectivity. Arrive's Edgeless Media Server Platform provides seamless integration with leading edge Microsoft Lync® collaboration platform and OpenCast Matterhorn Open Source Lecture Capture & Video Management for Education.

"Arrive is building technologies and bringing edgeless media solutions to market in the sunrise of extreme collaboration. This is an exciting technology space where we can see transformation everywhere. Collaboration is happening all around us and we are extremely excited to partner with Liberty AV which significantly enhances the potential and brings new opportunities in collaboration and rich media to Liberty's customers and channels" said Lee Dodson, President of Arrive Systems, Inc.

"Arrive's extensive range of Edgeless Media products will help cement Liberty's presence in the rapidly growing demand for unified AV and IT solutions. We are so pleased to expand our portfolio of leading edge solutions with Arrive room systems and systems integrator packages," said Ed Jankowski, President of Liberty AV Solutions. "Through this new partnership, all the Liberty AV Solutions customers will experience significant growth in the North American market."
