

FSR's DV-MFMV-74 DV PRO Scaling Switcher Wins InfoComm 2015 Best of Show from SVC

Orlando, FL (July 8, 2015) — FSR has announced that its DV-MFMV-74 DV PRO Scaling Switcher, launched at InfoComm 2015 – June 17-19 - in Orlando, Florida, has received a Best of Show Award from Sound & Video Contractor.

A large pool of entries was evaluated and tested by a panel of judges comprised of Industry experts, AV designers, integrators and end users.

Numerical values were assigned based on a series of criteria including: innovation; performance against category standard; richness/relevance of feature set; ease of installation/maintenance; and value/ROI. Products with the highest total points were selected as winners.

According to the judges, the DV-MFMV-74 DV PRO was singled out for having “just the right balance of flexibility and ease of operation.”

The DV-MFMV-74 DV PRO – MultiVU – Seven Input Multi-Format Windowing Scaler is a 7 x 1 seamless switcher with windowing capabilities offering maximum functionality from a tiny footprint. The 1 rack unit high, 19” wide rack mountable unit fits into standard enclosures effortlessly and is designed to address many of the needs for the AV/IT Industry including corporate, medical, education, and church/worship applications. 4 HDMI, 2 DisplayPort, and 1 VGA/RGB/YpPr input and one HDMI output support resolutions up to 4k x 2k allowing the presenter to show up to 4 of the inputs on the same screen simultaneously in a single, dual, triple, or quad screen layout. Each source is automatically scaled to match the optimal output resolution required to provide one large 4k x 2k image with seamless rapid switching between any inputs. With an easy-to-use front panel the DV-MFMV-74 can also be controlled via the integrated Web GUI, IR via the included remote, RS-232 and IP, or FSR's FLEX Control System with pre-made templates.

“We had so much to celebrate at InfoComm this year including over 14 product launches and our 35th anniversary serving the ProAV market,” stated company president, Jan Sandri. “Taking home a Best of Show award from Sound & Video Contactor made a successful and rewarding show that much sweeter. It is indeed an honor to be recognized for innovation by such a prestigious, leading source of information to the entire industry.”
