

Biamp Systems Inducted Into Installation Hall of Fame at InstallAwards

Awards program recognizes best of best in pro-AV industry

BEAVERTON, Oregon — June 28, 2016 — Biamp Systems, a leading provider of innovative, networked media systems, today announced that the company has been named to the Installation Hall of Fame by Installation magazine. The Hall of Fame induction recognizes individuals and companies that have helped to shape today's pro-AV industry, either through their work over a period of time or through their involvement in major groundbreaking initiatives. Biamp was inducted into the Hall of Fame at the InstallAwards ceremony held June 24 in London.

“We are pleased to induct Biamp into the Installation Hall of Fame in recognition of the company’s technological and thought leadership,” said Paddy Baker, editor, Installation. “Biamp holds numerous patents for its products, which are widely recognized across the industry and drive installations ranging from the smallest huddle rooms to university or corporate campuses. Biamp also enjoys an excellent reputation for training and customer service, with free product certification training available to anyone.”

“It’s a tremendous honor to be named to the Installation Hall of Fame,” said Graeme Harrison, executive vice president of marketing for Biamp Systems. “Now in their third year, these prestigious awards recognize the best of the best, and we’re so honored to be included in such an esteemed group.”
