HERMAN and ONE SYSTEMS® Enter into Distribution Partnership

MIAMI, FL., Jan. 29, 2019 – Herman (www.HermanAVGroup.com) a leading provider of professional AV products, procurement services, and labor resources to systems integrators in the commercial AV industry, has entered into a distribution partnership with One Systems® to support the U.S.

"We are thrilled to partner with One Systems," said Jeffrey Wolf, Co-CEO at Herman. "One Systems provides industry leading products that are used in many of the most reputable sports & entertainment venues in the U.S. This is a strategic addition to our product offering and this partnership enables us to further deliver value and benefit to our integrator partners."

"We are very excited about Herman's ability to not only provide value-added services to our mutual pro audio integration customers but also to increase awareness of One Systems' unique speaker solutions to the broader pro integration market," said Doug Kittle, Sales Manager at One Systems. "Having Herman as a distribution partner further provides a strategic nationwide warehousing solution that will serve our valued customers well."
